

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., JULY 12, 1881.

TRANSFER IN THE TUNNEL.

Miss Lizzie B. Walling, of Cambridge, Mass., is evidently satisfied to the little feminine weakness of court-plaster, and besides, it is safe to conclude from the following (which is hers) that she has had experiences on the rail:

"Oh, no," she replied, with a smile so entrancing, "When he ventured to ask if the seat were engaged, there was a general outcry of business common. Were for the time being entirely assayed."

It was on the down train in the hot July night. The window was open, the fan was in motion, and the cool sea air over the crimson.

That stilled the clear cheek and the sweet, dimpled chin.

Oh, that chin, with its dimple and wonderful curving, and wavy fairness, he'd never seen its mate! And how magnificently enhanced by a bit of court-plaster!

At first, it was natural, they talk of the regular, How hot and how sultry the day had passed; Then spoke of the last showy wedding of fashion, How enormous the fortune the groom had amassed.

The next thing in order, of course, was the tunnel, With the darkness of Egypt—whatever that is—and the little dark patch, when they merged into daylight,

Had changed its position from her chis to his.

SMOKING.

It Opens the Brain and Opens the Heart.

White Death Lurks in It.

Smoking is a custom loathsome to the eye, hateful to the nose, harmful to the brain, dangerous to the lungs, and in the black, stinking fume thereof nearest resembling the horrible Stygian smoke of the pit that is bottomless." So said King James in his "Counterblaste; or, Moseopaus." It must be remembered, however, that King James was a Puritan, and that his good Lawyer, an equal authority and friend of his pipe, declares that tobacco "does thought no quicker and refine than all the breath of the nine." It happens that the lively Gaul, as represented by a small body of anti-tobacconists, has lately set up a society entitled "The Association Against the Abuse of Tobacco," and that the same has extracted from the French Academy the statement of Dr. Richaud, of Lyons, famous for his tobacco, as compared with alcohol, is inconclusive, it does less harm than opium and is not worse than tea.

According to our French friends of the newly founded society, idleness and death lurk in the bowl of the tobacco pipe, and this they aver notwithstanding Lord Lyon declared that the true weed ripens the brain and strengthens the heart and kidneys, and like a good man act like a good man. One side or the other may be, it does not follow that either must be right. Meanwhile, moderate votaries of what Charles Lamb calls the "piano divine of most virtue" are at liberty to consider the entire question as to the use and abuse of tobacco, aided by the pleasant perfume of the much maligned medicine-chamber.—London Telegraph.

Gutten and Mrs. Surratt.

The Democratic papers find it hard to discuss the attempted assassination without bringing in the name of Mrs. Surratt, which they do in a tone of contempt and sneer. They also hope that Garrison will be tried in May, will get a better chance for his life than Mrs. Surratt got. This is all sentimental nonsense. Mrs. Surratt, as a woman, ought not to have been hung; as a criminal she deserved her fate. It was clearly proved at the trial that she harbored the assassin of Mr. Lincoln before and was ready to receive him. She did a bloody work; that she was complicit of their intent upon the last. She was really one of the conspirators, with out whose co-operation the conspiracy might have failed.—Globe-Democrat.

The Union Veteran Corps.

At a special meeting of the Union Veteran Corps, held at their armory last evening, it was unanimously agreed to parade on Thursday evening as an escort to Captain S. E. Thompson, who returns from an extensive tour through the West. On the same evening the corps will present him a suitable gold belt and sword, the Army Corps. The corps expect giving their second excursion on Friday evening, when it is expected their friends will turn out in force. Captain Paul Reiter was elected an honorary member.

Ethics Bigotry.

The funeral of Elisha Biggs, the half brother of George W. Biggs, occurred yesterday afternoon at the chapel in Oak Hill Cemetery. The funeral service was read by the Rev. Mr. Barker, of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. There were only the relatives and a few friends present, and the remains were interred in a lot where two of the deceased children are buried. Owing to the fact that the family of Mr. George W. Biggs from the city, the funeral did not take place there.

THE ROSCOE CONKLING CLUB.

Contributions to the Fund for Mrs. Garfield.

Resolutions on the Conspiracy Theory.

The Roscoe Conkling Club, Boys in Blue, have contributed $100 to the fund now being raised for Mrs. Garfield. The resolutions adopted in reference to the instigation of a "conspiracy" in the attempted assassination of the President were as follows:

Resolved, That it is the opinion of the Roscoe Conkling Club that the plot to assassinate the President, it would be a thousand times more hazardous to the country than any other plot, and dreadful in its effect had it been instigated by such eminent and worthy citizens as those upon whom innocent heads futile efforts were made by designing men to injure and prejudices, to place the cause as well as the consequences of this great national calamity; and

Whereas, terrible and outrages as was the crime committed upon the country in the person of its honored President, it would be a thousand times more hazardous to the country than any other plot, and dreadful in its effect had it been instigated by such eminent and worthy citizens as those upon whom innocent heads futile efforts were made by designing men to injure and prejudices, to place the cause as well as the consequences of this great national calamity; and

Whereas, the Constitution and the laws of the land at all times and under all circumstances, in the patriotic duty of every American citizen, are to be upheld;

Whereas certain men and newspapers, alike forgetful of their reputations and their duty to the country in its hour of peril, spread before the people false, wicked, and seditious stories, endeavoring to encourage assassination and resistance to the constitutional authorities of the Government; therefore,

Resolved, That it is the opinion of the Roscoe Conkling Club of Boys in Blue, that persons guilty of crimes against the country, and especially traitors, are to be selected from those who daily buy, smoke cigarettes, part their hair in the middle, carry umbrellas in clear weather, and have no record in "multiplying and punishing the earth."

Why we are to be singled out for the sacrifice no man can find out. Haven't we all the qualifications required to make successful clerks? Because we deserve our leisure time is mainly sports, such as are beneficial to general good health and fine appearance, are we to be made martyrs that a few droves hold a clerical?

We do divide our hair in equal measure; isn't that fair? Every question should have two sides to be interesting and possible of successful defense. If we do dress our hair in a fashion that doesn't suit one-sided people we have as large a brain as those who don't. We can walk erect, and don't go through the streets.

OUR HAVE AMBITION

beyond drawing their salary and mopping away their leisure hours may be advanced or have a certain amount of ambition, but it needn't be much.

The sales aggregated 180,000 shares, including Canada, U.S.A., Mexico, U.K., France, Germany, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, Korea, China, Philippines, etc., and 100,000 shares in the Franklin Square Library sent by mail post paid.
